

While Thailand is promoting EV assembly and aims to become a regional hub for EVs in Southeast Asia, the nation lacks a policy to support battery recycling infrastructure.

This group is for sharing information about recycling of used batteries (and other household hazardous wastes like fluorescent lamps) in Bangkok and all over Thailand.

"This project is the first of its kind in Thailand, successfully recycling used batteries and reducing waste in the ecosystem. It shall bring back materials into the economic system, making it a circular ...

A pilot project was initiated in June 2022 to collect used batteries at 31 of 7-Eleven stores within universities in Bangkok and the surrounding areas and in Chiangmai Province. Now PECTH and CP ...

As the collection network through 7-Eleven stores expands, this initiative brings us closer to achieving a circular economy, where used batteries are not only recycled but potentially remade into ...

This initiative, launched in July 2024, involves stakeholders such as Panasonic Energy, companies engaged in battery recycling, Chulalongkorn University, King Mongkut's University, and ...

Electronic waste removal in Bangkok for TVs, laptops, and batteries. Recycle safely without the hassle.

In June 2022, Panasonic Energy started to install collection boxes for used dry batteries in Thailand at 31 local 7-Eleven stores in cooperation with CP ALL, which operates 7-Eleven. In ...

Find information on recycling stores, second-hand stores, donation points, and organizations that accept recycled materials. Thanks for the information from Uncle Saleng and the missing garbage. Do you ...

Battery recycling bangkok

Web: <https://kopbeenskloof.co.za>

